

BI*U

a better understanding or a more important relationship they haven't seen before.

- Call 8: This chart type allows you to comprehend the relationship between data sets
 - Bar chart
- Call 7: I can describe what happens in the Filter stage
 - The filter stage is when the person takes certain data out to use to answer a question that they created. Note that they do not get rid of the rest of the data.
- Call 6: I can describe what happens in the Mine stage
 - The person looks for patterns and relationships and starts asking questions about the data that they can answer later in the process.
- Call 5: Describe the relationship between the Represent and the Acquire Stage
 - If the person struggles to create a useful representation or they are missing important information, they could go back to the acquire stage and get more information for the data process.
- Call 4: Describe the relationship between the Represent and the Critique Stage
 - One can critique the representation and give feedback on how to improve data visualization.
- Call 3: I can describe what happens in the Represent stage